MELLON HUNTS AT ONE PER CENT. BOOST IN NATION'S TAXES

BIG INCREASE REVENUE PREDICTED

Secretary's Report to Congress Visions $110,000,000 Gain in Customs Receipts

Washington, Dec. 4 (INS)—

Reflecting the apparent belief there will be a revival of business by the middle of next year, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, in his annual report to Congress today, estimated customs revenue would increase $110,000,000 in the 1932 fiscal year, as compared with the year which ends next June 30, and miscellaneous internal revenue receipts would gain $52,000,000.

At the same time, tax payers virtually are certain to have to pay one per cent more on this year's income tax than on the last. Mellon predicts a net increase of $106,000,000 in income and corporation taxes would result from the elimination of the one per cent tax reduction granted by Congress last year. He made no prediction as to business activity during the coming year. As President Hoover has stated, Mellon said the one per cent income tax reduction cannot be for income earned in 1929 because of the probable deficit of $100,000,000 in government receipts on June 30.

LIBERTY BOND REFUND

Mellon recommended to Congress that his office be authorized to issue $2,000,000,000 in bonds under the Second Liberty Loan Act, in order to simplify Treasury in refunding more than $2,500,000,000 in Liberty Bonds in the next three years.

He again asked Congress to amend the Second Liberty Loan Act to permit his office to further exempt issues of the surplus as well as the normal tax.

On the subject of branch, gross and chain banking Mellon directed committee to investigate the relations to regulate these developments should not be used to the disadvantage of the community. The Federal Reserve Board and the controller of the currency and progress. Opposition was expressed to the sale of industrial stocks in the collection of the public debt from the present statutory requirements of the sinking fund and the application of principal payments on foreign debts.

INCOME TAX DECREASE

As a result of the business depression and stock market crash, Mellon estimated income taxes, which amounted to $2,450,000,000 last year, would be reduced to $2,200,000,000 for the year ending next June.

"The drop in security prices since the autumn of 1929 undoubtedly has had a direct adverse effect on income," Mellon said. "Moreover, the depression in consumer demand in consequence of reduction in business activity, affecting particularly industries that had been most stimulated by the unusual demand for luxury goods."

Mellon dealt briefly with prohibition, which was transferred from his jurisdiction to the Justice Department July 1. He said distribution of "fictitious" liquor by the prohibition bureau proved of value in strengthening cooperation of the States with the Federal Government in enforcement and in bringing about a more sympathetic understanding of the problems and objectives of the government.

Winston Churchill Describes Soviet Trial As Camouflage to Fool Hungry Peasants

British Ex-Chancellor Says "Treason" Cases Divert Attention From Misery, Suffering Under Stalin's Grim Regime

Winston S. Churchill, son of Lord Randolph Churchill, has held various high posts in the British Government since his first election to Parliament in 1900. He has been Secretary of Home Affairs, Colonial, War and Air, and Chancellor of the Exchequer. In the accompanying article, Mr. Churchill casts the illuminating spotlight of statesmanship on the current revolutionist trial in Moscow. Writing as one accused of plotting against the Soviet, Mr. Churchill is well able to delineate between the truth and half truths of the Soviet scheme.

London, Dec. 4.—Those who, like myself, are inveterate opponents of all that Bolshevism stands for, whether in subversive revolution or despotic rule, are prone to dwell upon its root as characteristic.

It is unnatural. It is a monster that has been born into our modern world. A cold reptilian blood flows in its veins. It possesses the science of civilization without its mercy, the fanaticism of religion without its God, the exaltation of human passions and appetites without any ideal beyond their gratification—and that is not achieved.

Expects Nothing From Communists

I have repeatedly warned my Liberal and Socialist friends, as well as traders and men of business, when they have consulted me, that they will never get any satisfaction out of Russian Communists.

We are in the presence of sub-human degeneration which, if not luckily inherently morbid, would reduce the great nations—may, all mankind—to the conditions which Maeterlinck has so vividly depicted in his history of the white ant.

Or, again, it is a cancer bacillus, feeding and spreading itself upon the starving body, thriving by the very process which it causes and destroys its victim. How vain to traffic or parley with cancer! How foolish to make a pet of a crocodile or count a cobra or copperhead!

Undeterred by this advice, many have tried to experiment. All have been disillusioned.

English and American philanthropists, enterprise and hope, have been deceived. French, British, German and Dutch Socialists or trade unionists, highly complex and intelligent, skilled engineers from both sides of the Atlantic, laboring men from many countries, the Lena Goldfields Company, the great engineering firm, Ughart (mentioned at the Soviet trial), young Mr. Harriman, old Mr. Vanderveke—all in turn have sought to clasp that clammy hand.

All in turn have recoiled, injured, infected, or at least defiled by its chill, poisonous sweat. But there are plenty of simulators left to be deceived.

TRIAL BROADCAST

Nothing could more plainly illustrate the guilt between Communist and non-Communist mentality than the trial now proceeding in Moscow. The Russian professors, who are the well-known and organized experts.

Originally there were ten, but now was shot out of hand by the OGPU, and another "died while under interrogation." So, then, there were eight.

The prosecution has framed an indictment in 26,000 words against these eight. It bristles with capital offenses.

Movietone cameras record the drama. Broadcast carries it to every Russian town, and to wherever a human audience cares to listen to this strange tale as it unfolds.

The entire Russian caucus through thousands of committees and hundreds of newspapers, spreads its propaganda into every accessible quarter.

Economic demonstrations, exhibiting the blood of the victims, parade the streets; shouts of revolution, shouting vengeance, stream into Moscow from every part of the vast Russian empire.

Schools apply the Government to show to every child the "fascist" nature of the accused is "fascist," asking that his father may be led to execution.

Meanwhile, the accused—defendants, as they are termed—with solemn circumspection sit, impassive, their faces, smoking, endless cigarette and forcing, from time to time a look of indifference.

They do not deny the charges. On the contrary, they admit the charges, in disabbing them. They "help explain the indictments." They cannot wait on their guilt.

TOPSY-TURVY TRIAL

Hour after hour they accused themselves, and each other, of the most heinous crimes and treacheries, using always the very language best adapted to convey the enormity of their villainous intentions, and to excite against them the well-ordered and organized ferocity of the mob.

Thinks Red Defendants May Get Mercy if Ruse Succeeds government thinks the same trick may be worth playing a second time.

The second question, of more general interest, is: Will the Soviet government "get away with the goods" in Russia? Will the government succeed in diverting the wrath of the Russian people at the horrible and utterly needless provocations which they are now enduring under a barbarian and imaginary enemy?

I am by no means sure that they will not.

The combination of the powers of terrorism without limit of scope, and of the cause matters, the newspapers, the broadcast and the cinema, applied to this purpose, against a people isolated from all external news and bowed in grinding toil, is not to be underestimated.

FORMERLY HOSTILE

It is by no means certain that if these forces of soulless barbarism, which have been in existence since 1918, now, we could recover to escape.

As my name has been mentioned in this, so-called "trial," I should perhaps write about it without saying that so long as Great Britain was with the Bolshevik Republic, I did my utmost to compass its downfall.

My only regret is that the United States did not make a more resolute effort to rescue the Russian people from the awful fate by which they are now gripped.

But from the moment when they were recognized by His Majesty's Government, and the United States by the laws of the country and by the action against them, other than that expressed by public opinion of advice tendered to my colleagues to leave them severely alone.

DEAD THREE YEARS

In their odious proceedings they convicted not only with the living but with the dead. Prof. Frenkel, who had been in the hands of the Russian police for three years, was now in the hands of the Russian police for three years.

These were the Russian trials in the hands of the Russian police for three years. These were the Russian trials in the hands of the Russian police for three years.

At all very fine these two Russian, personages had already been in the hands of the Russian police for three years. These were the Russian trials in the hands of the Russian police for three years.

MAYOR CURLEY SWELLS XMAS BASKET FUND

Mayor Curley swelled the Christmas Basket Fund of the Boston Evening American today with a check for $100, and placed the total over the $5000 mark.

It is doubtful if any individual in the city realizes more than Mayor Curley the seriousness of the situation confronting many families in Boston. He has personally listened to many pleas for aid by mothers who cannot feed and clothe their children—he has been called upon by hundreds of fathers unable to find work and he has witnessed privation and suffering in many homes.

And with this knowledge of their needs he has contributed to and endorsed the relief which the Christmas Basket Fund is striving to give every needy family. Not a day passes which does not bring hundreds of letters asking for help. Reports of conditions in some homes are beyond belief until they are investigated and proven to exist.

HUNDREDS OF LETTERS
Children in need of warm clothing and plain food can be found in almost every section of Boston and in every city and town in Greater Boston. And there is a huge pile of letters from every city and town throughout New England asking the same sort of help.

You can obtain their addresses by calling the Helping Hand office or help them by sending a donation to the Christmas Basket Fund of the Boston Evening American.

MAYOR CURLEY'S LETTER
Letters from Mayor Curley and from City Treasurer Edmund L. Doan, who enclosed a check for $100, read:

"It is a source of exceeding pleasure to congratulate the Boston American Publishing Company upon its enterprise and generosity in the raising of funds for the needy of Boston at Christmas time.

"I beg to enclose herewith my check in the sum of $100, and trust that the public response will be as generous as the enterprise."

(Signed) JAMES M. CURLEY.
City Treasurer Doan said:

"In the generous fashion which is typical of all Boston newspapers, the Boston Evening American is again leading the drive to alleviate hunger and suffering among the poor at Christmas time.

"No greater or more laudable task can be undertaken by any organization.

"I feel sure that the annual drive to secure funds for the Christmas Basket Fund of the Boston Evening American will receive the support of every public spirited citizen."

Eva Puck and Sammy White, stars of Ziegfeld's "Show Boat," and favorites for many years with Boston theatergoers, will be on the program of the mid-night show to be staged at the Keith-Boston theatre in aid of the Christmas Basket Fund of the Boston Evening American.

This latest addition to the long list of artists who have volunteered their services to the fund was announced today by Harry Rice, manager of the Keith-Boston, who has donated the theatre and its entire staff for the Basket Fund show.

Puck and White, Noreen and Jones, vaudeville sister duo act, Fess Williams and his Royal Flush orchestra, Mickey Apple's band from the Concord Grove, and Jacques Renard's Mayfair Club orchestra are just a few of the attractions who have reported for duty to the Basket Fund office.

"They'll all be there at midnight, December 15, and the complete program will be published a few days before the show. Tom Mares of Basket Fund office today that Fess Williams, leader of the colored band and revue at Hollywood Inn, would be on hand with his entire floor show.

DYNAMITE CAR BLAST KILLS 36

Rio de Janeiro, Dec. 4 (AP)—An innocent looking box car, backed onto a siding near the railroad station at Porto Novo da Cunha, state of Minas Gerais, when the recent revolution began, packed in its interior death for 36 residents of the city and destruction of three of its buildings.

Yesterday, for some undetermined reason, the dynamite in the car exploded, killing 36 persons and destroying three nearby buildings. Among those killed were Maj. Manuel Lense, Revolutionist commander of this sector during the revolution, and his wife and three children.

Plan for Temporary Postal Clerks Assailed

Editor Boston American:

A story is told of a man being rebuffed by one of his friends for the plan to be set by being involved in a scandal. The man replied, "My friend, don't do so."

And so it is with the Republic's administration, shoving from the house—using private enterprises to create jobs, to avoid layoffs, and not to cut down working hours, while they are eliminating jobs, just to cut down payrolls, when it is actually work to be done.

Here is what happens every day in one of the large postal divisions in Boston—temporary clerks (many of whom have no other employment) report for work at 5 p. m. They are obliged to hang around until nearly 5:30, although there is work that could be done. The automatically cut off half an hour from each man.

At about 5:30 they are allowed to punch the clock, and from then on work at top speed until about 7:15 p. m. Usually at this time one of the powers that be taps each man on the shoulder and informs him it is time for him to check out. Although many times there is still work that these men could do, but the payroll must be cut regardless of the result. If a man is lucky, he might get two hours work, for which he is paid five dollars. To get this, some men spend the car fare, leaving them $2. Working five nights a week, men then $2.50, this being the sole income of a number of these clerks. So much for the government creating jobs.

Out-of-Date in 1935

Editor Boston American:

In your column a few nights ago Henry T. Wilson is quoted, speaking of prohibition:

"Prohibition is as much out of place as a horse and buggy in downtown Detroit."

I say now that prohibition will be as much out of place in 1935 as a cow in City Point, and you can add it to "Fool's Prohibition View, Spring Condemnation." I believe in light wines and beer in moderation for all.

Very truly yours,

JAMES J. McBRIDE.

So-Called "Blue Laws"

Not Blue, Says Writer

Editor Boston American:

Why is it that newspapers and others will speak of blue laws? These so-called laws have been repealed by an incident having in Ballows Falls, Vt., an account of violating old Sunday observance laws.

Blue laws never had any legal effect, but were the productions of a malicious brain. The Rev. Samuel Peters of Hallowell, Me., started this idea. He was hustled in Boston, where he was obliged to put a cork in his mouth by citizens to stop talking.

These so-called laws were hatched in this caricature of the original law of the New Haven code of 1636. Peters was a fringer of these laws and it is about time that

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:

I have just received a copy of the Boston Evening American, containing the article on Mayor Curley's proposal for development of the Mississippi river.

I think Mayor Curley's idea is splendid.

The Hearst newspapers have treated his proposal generously, and I am sure, with effect.

I want to congratulate the Boston Evening American and other Hearst papers on their courage and vision, when both of these qualities are so much needed in this national emergency.

With best wishes, I am,

Yours very sincerely,

HENRIK SHIPSTEAD.

United States Senator of Minnesota.

This historic fact was dignified. Stop talking and writing about blue laws. They have no relevance in history.

When Men Labor Not

Editor Boston American:

It is possible that machines will entirely replace the laborer. President Hoover claims machinery should not replace the laborer.

What are you going to do about it?

We're not fearing the present situation. We will have to think of the future in terms of television. We'll travel by air. Light will come from sources different from lamps, and without wires connections. Travel will be revolutionized. The speed will be 100 miles an hour.

The new generation will be up in the air flying. The old generation will be contented with old Mother Earth. There will be vast lengths of pipe lines conveying food. Hundreds of other inventions will be in use causing a man to work only four hours or less daily.

We might as well get used to the coming machine age. Bits of it are here now. There will be wireless houses, offices, factories. There will be artificial illumination rich in ultra violet rays. With the machine age every one will be easy, smoking the best five-cent cigar ever made and in memory of former Vice-President Marshall.

Women for Jury Duty

Editor Boston American:

Massachusetts women should be eligible for jury duty. Illinois has given an overwhelming vote in favor of appointing women.

There are now 22 states in the United States where women are eligible for jury duty.

The Bay State will soon join them!

GIRL FLIER IN HEROIC SWIM

Catania, Italy, Dec. 4 (AP)—Miss Winifred Spooner, 23-year-old British girl aviator seeking to make a record flight from Cayman to Cape Town, South Africa, came down today in the Tyrrhenian sea, and bravely swam ashore to save the life of her companion, Capt. E. C. T. Edwards.

Their plane did not sink, though they clung to it for two hours. While it was still dark Miss Spooner swam ashore and almost exhausted after a two-hour struggle, told of Edwards' plight.

Meanwhile fishermen rescued him and towed the plane ashore. The plane left Cayman early yesterday and reached Rome at 8:40 p. m. It departed at 8:30 p. m. about midnight, while 200 miles from Catania the motor failed and the plane was forced down.

For two hours the flier shouted for help before the girl started her two mile swim ashore.

She was slightly injured about the nose and lip. Edwards was injured on forehead and nose. They said they would abandon their flight.

Society Dancer to Fly

Newport, R. I., Dec. 4 (AP)—Margaret Palmerston Holcombe, who was one of the best society dancers in her debaute days, is taking daily lessons in aviation.

"I'll cost you 10 cents," he yelled the combination man of the Bay State line.

Later he cut the rate to five, making an effort to set the man right. He could have told him to walk through the turnstile in his entailed ride on the L system or given him a ride for one station.

I wonder if the combination job is worth the effort. And I wonder why both lines should be under one management. That would be a merger that would benefit the public.

Oh! The ride seeker did not get on. I don't know what became of him. P. J. L.

4,860,000 IDLE BY A. F. L. LIST

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—American Federation of Labor estimates today showed 4,860,000 laboring men out of work in November.

This figure was given out by William Green, president of the federation, with a warning that at the rate of increase for the past month, February would see 5,000,000 jobless. Neither figure covered unemployed office workers or farm laborers.

The estimate was based on reports from unions in 24 cities. The Federation of Labor analysis of conditions showed that unemployment was highest in New York, Buffalo, Los Angeles, Birmingham, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and Denver. Theatrical employment showed an increase.

Catholic Bodies

in Legal Conflict

Rome, Dec. 4 (AP)—A legal advertisement in today's papers giving notice of an injunction restraining the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre from using titles and parts of the ritual employed by the Knights of Malta, gave evidence of a conflict between the two organizations. Many noted Americans are members of the Knights of Malta, and the Marchese Edoardo Paracchini Ugolini, the Pope's nephew by marriage, is the Italian representative of the Holy Sepulchre Order.

Chicago, Dec. 4 (AP)—James Clary, detective attached to the pawn shop detail, returned from lunch with a bandaged hand.

"I got my hand on it first."

CARNIVAL WILL KEEP BUSY ON 71ST BIRTHDAY

Cardinal O'Connell will celebrate his 71st birthday on Monday, the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

Following his custom Cardinal O'Connell will pontificate at a solemn high mass in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross at 9 o'clock in the morning. He will engage in a few parish activities, but will devote the greater part of the day to his relatives and friends.

AWARD SWEATERS

It is expected the Cardinal will give recognition to the Cathedral high school football team, which won the championship among Catholic high schools this year. All students of the Cathedral high school and their parents, together with the pupils of the diocesan grammar school and their parents, will be present and offer their prayers for the Cardinal, who has requested all, together with the parishes of the Cathedral, to receive Holy Communion at the 9 o'clock mass.

After the mass, the Cardinal is expected to award his trophy to the Cathedral high school football team and present each player his personal gift.

NOVENAS THROGGED

On Monday masses will be celebrated at the Cathedral at 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12:30 noon.

The novenas in a number of Catholic parishes of the diocese are attracting large numbers. In the Church of the Immaculate Conception, South End; St. Mary's, North End; Holy Trinity, Shawmut ave.; St. Ignace Church, Newton, and the Mission Church, Roxbury, are attending the services.

Triduum will start next Friday or Saturday in scores of other churches. Rev. William J. Casey, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Roxbury, has announced a triduum to start Saturday.

YOUNG SCORES POLITICS

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Economics and politics are in conflict and must be reconciled, in the opinion of Owen D. Young.

Speaking before the Latent Club last night, following his return from England, the author of the Young plan said:

"The forces are violent and imposing. Some way must be found of accommodating each to the other or they will destroy each other."

"In some European countries the question is being seriously discussed of providing economic parliaments in addition to political ones in order that men especially qualified for the handling of these difficult economic problems may deal with them."

"It has even been suggested that if a holiday of armaments is good a holiday of parliaments would be better."

Labor Vote Cut by Stand on Palestine

London, Dec. 4 (AP)—Labor retains its seat in the Commons representative of the Whitechapel constituency as a consequence of Wednesday's by-election, but by a greatly reduced plurality. Some attributed the loss to commitment at the government's attitude toward Palestine.

James Hall, Labor, polled 5444 votes, the Liberal runner-up 5445, Conservative 3725, and Communist candidate 2106. In the preceding election Harry Gosling, Labor, deceased, polled 13,701 votes.

POLICE BATTLE BERLIN REDS

Berlin, Dec. 4 (AP)—Communist disorders in various parts of Germany, which already have resulted in a two deaths, were in full swing in Berlin this afternoon in continuation of unemployment demonstrations.

Some of the rioters stopped to give battle as the police drove the mob through the streets but only ten were arrested.

A tremendous chorus of "we want work and bread" and "we are starving" was heard at a demonstration of unemployed at Busch river, held under auspices of the Communist party.

The demonstrators afterward marched toward the northeastern working class suburbs, refusing to disperse at the summons of the police.

Rioters were thrown at the police, who wielded their clubs vigorously and fired in the air to keep their assailants at bay.

Shopkeepers along the main thoroughfare lowered their shutters, but a number of vegetable market stalls were plundered.

GENERAL ELECTRIC FULL RANGE RADIO
this Christmas

If you tallied up all the amounts you spend on odds and ends at Christmas-time giving presents to the various members of the family, you will find that you ordinarily spend more than enough to make a down payment on a General Electric FULL RANGE Radio. Why not combine the family present into one great big splendid gift this Christmas?

A General Electric Radio will give to each member of your family more genuine enjoyment and pleasure, not only at Christmas-time but throughout the year, than they could possibly get from the ordinary Christmas present. Just think of the thrill they will get when the FULL RANGE Sensitivity of the General Electric Radio brings them in stations and programs that they have been unable to get before. How glad they will be to find that overlapping between stations has been banished by FULL RANGE Selectivity and don't forget that each program will take on added beauty as a result of the life-like tone fidelity with extra richness and greater musical quality of FULL RANGE Tone.

To help you decide this question, go to your local G-E Radio Dealer. Ask him to give you a complete demonstration of FULL RANGE Radio, then examine the cabinets and discuss the whole matter with him. You will be surprised for how little you can give this wonderful gift.

The General Electric Certified Inspection Plan goes with any General Electric Radio you select.

You may purchase your General Electric Radio on the Budget Plan.

3 HELD IN SHOE PRICE CUT WAR

Brookline, Dec. 4 (AP).—On the heels of an attack on "price cutters" and "racketers" among shoe manufacturers, three persons were arrested today for passing out circulars advocating a shoe strike.

They gave their names as Mildred Young, 23 Shawmut st.; Charles Meyer, 23 Shawmut st.; and Rosebury, and Samuel Wain, 26, at Harrison ave., Boston.

In Brookline district court they were fined $10 each and furnished $100 each for bail pending appeal. They were charged with violation of a city ordinance in distributing literature without a permit.

The handbills, which police claim were passed out by about 20 persons, urged shoe workers to strike in protest against proposed wage reductions contemplated by manufacturers.

The attack on "price cutters" was

Frozen Light Shines as It Thaws; 'Cold' Corn Pops

New York, Dec. 4 (AP).—A beautiful form of light, preserved by freezing it at 312 degrees below zero, was exhibited to the New York Merchants Association today.

Almost equally amazing was the sight of corn popping between two made in a communication sent to manufacturers by General President John L. Mica of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union.

Price cutters he referred to as "unscrupulous industrial bandits" whose methods of doing business were "unscrupulous and inhuman." They are driving out of the industry the self-respecting business man.

What Price Auto?

East Orange, N. J., Dec. 4 (AP).—Miss Isabel Julian has written the New York traffic court to which the case was cited. "Take the car if the fine is very big for parking."

bers of ice water, its bursting due to radio waves that heated the hearts of the kernels while the air about them was chilled.

The light was frozen at Schenectady, New York, yesterday, brought here in a bottle of liquid air at 312 degrees below zero, and thawed out for exhibition to the merchants, by L. A. Hawkins, executive engineer, and E. J. Manning, physicist, of the General Electric Co.

The jets of water in addition to the popping corn contained cubes of ice, a solution, which made them electrical conductors, so that they were electrified for short radio waves passing between them and through the corn.

The popping suggests interesting possibilities for control of cooking, for Mr. Hawkins points out that not a charred kernel appears in such corn, although the kernels are hot. The popping requires about two minutes.

55 IN HAVANA RIOT FREED

Havana, Dec. 4 (AP).—Fifty-five university students who were arrested after a demonstration in which one policeman was killed and another wounded were given their freedom by the government today.

Dr. Luis F. Rodriguez Molina, appointed dean of the National University in place of Dr. Rafael Martinez Vial, and who assumed his new post this morning, immediately tendered his resignation in the face of the student dissatisfaction.

Driver Killed in Crash

Amherst, Dec. 4 (AP).—Emil Abramson, 24, a junior at Massachusetts Agricultural College, was found dead today beside the wreckage of his car, which had struck a tree.

Paris Parley Seeks Depression Remedy

Paris, Dec. 4 (AP).—Delegates to the International Chamber of Commerce Congress met here today to consider causes and remedies for world wide economic depression. They came from thirty countries, including the United States, whose delegation was headed by Nelson Dean Jay, of J. P. Morgan & Company.

New Haven Police Hold 3 as Suspects

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 4 (AP).—Three Meriden youths are held for investigation here today following their arrest by a detective who found one standing outside a drug store, another at the wheel of an auto and the third entering a near-by drug store. The detective found two loaded revolvers in the car. The three are Noah Caplan, 28, Frank Karbinski, 22, and Constantino Angilette, 25.

Slueth on Trail of Watertown Man

Watertown, Me., Dec. 4 (AP).—Waterbury selection, declaring themselves dissatisfied with the progress of a search for Frank Ramadell, 33, of Watertown, Mass., who disappeared here early Sunday, last night employed a special investigator. Ramadell, a native of this town, was on a week-end visit when he disappeared. He was last seen leaving a cottage on the shore of Lake Umbagog. Possibility that he stumbled into the water led to the dragging of the lake bed. No trace of him was found.

"... to be posted in a prominent place in the bank..."

THE Massachusetts Bank, our direct ancestor, began business on July 5, 1784. The rules which governed its operations were stringent indeed.

The maximum loan to one person at one time was $3,000. No individual might owe the bank in excess of $5,000 at any given time and $7,500 was the largest sum for which any person could be liable to the bank as promisor or endorser.

Renewal of notes was forbidden. He who failed to meet his note must not only submit to the immediate sale of collateral but might not have any further notes discounted for a period of eight months thereafter.

The names of delinquents were ordered to be posted in a prominent place in the bank

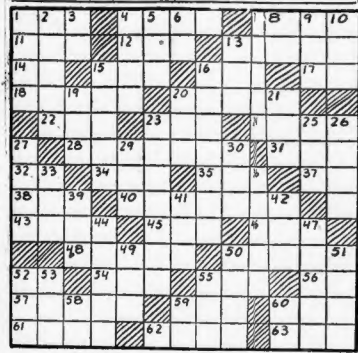

Banking regulations and practices have been modified in one hundred and forty-six years. Yet New England's largest bank can today thank its ancestor. For it established the foremost of all banking principles—that the safety of our depositors' money should be and always will be our first consideration.

FATIGUE CAUSES WORKERS TO MAKE MANY MISTAKES

Especially Noticeable During Mid-afternoon—the "Zero Hour" in Business

The condition — "too tired to think" — is familiar to nearly everybody. When experienced by those working under pressure, where mental alertness is necessary, it often results in errors both large and small.

Investigations show that mid-afternoon is the time when fatigue with its attending results is most in evidence. Many men and women, however, have discovered a method to overcome this tired feeling. They take a moment to eat or drink something sweet and are able to proceed with their work with new vigor.

Candy, ice cream, cookies, small cakes, soda-fountain beverages and the "athlete's cocktail" — a glass of water sweetened with sugar — are not only efficient mid-afternoon snacks but accessible to all. They are quickly digested and the energy provided by the sugar is immediately available. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

The name of the sensational NEW MOTOR FUEL announced for the first time in yesterday's newspapers is

A T L A N T I C

W H I T E

for it
Saturday*

DRIVING CONDITIONS are radically different from those of a few years ago. There are three times as many automobiles as in 1920 . . . thousands of traffic-lights and semaphores, with cars lined up in columns for the get-away . . . numerous stop-streets, at which you must come to a complete stop before crossing or entering. Automobile engines have been redesigned—their fuel requirements changed.

All of these things point to the need for a new and better motor fuel . . . one developed especially to meet modern driving conditions.

Safety, for example, frequently depends upon the ability of your car to thread its way swiftly and surely through traffic. A "lazy" gas which does not respond instantly to your touch may easily get you into serious trouble.

Comfort—particularly in a closed car—requires a gasoline that will give off no foul odors.

Economy is a factor worth careful consideration. Even for a small or medium-size car, you buy many gallons of fuel in the course of a year. You want a gasoline that will give you most mileage . . . and will not leave deposits of hard carbon, or corrode the vital parts of your motor.

Satisfaction in your automobile requires that the gasoline you use give maximum performance under all conditions. Instant starting in the coldest weather. Quick pick-up on the straight-away. Power on hills, without the power-robbing "ping," or knock.

A motor fuel meeting these requirements has been developed, through literally years of research, by one of the oldest, most progressive refining companies in the world. Its name is ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH! Watch for further details in this newspaper tomorrow—and plan to buy your first tankful Saturday!

TANNING
George Underwood
Hey, Girls! Know About Bargain Sale Tomorrow?
Santa Has Best Boxing Buy Ever on Tap for You!
Let's Go, Dearies, and Help Christmas Fund!

If the girls—Lord love 'em—only would turn out for boxing, like they do for hockey, here in the home of Culture and God, then Santa Claus would call out the Boston Garden for tomorrow night's great Christmas Fund Boxing Show twice over. At the shindy between the Bruins and the Maple Leafs the other evening, we found ourselves fairly surrounded with easy to look at and rest the eyes. There were hordes to the right of us, brackets to the left of us, and a red head in front of us squinting and squaring. One sweet young thing threatened to climb over us to get a look at the referee for banishing Eddie Shore to the bastille. A Radcliffe lass in back of us, who apparently came from the shady side of the border—she certainly was a red, hot Toronto temptress, anyway—constantly was yelling for somebody's gore and shouting "Kill him, Chances! Kill him!" Kipling was right. The female of the species is more deadly than the male.

We can't quite get the attitude of our back box girls toward boxing in other words, the fact remains in our ears have become just as much addicted to the thrills of the fight as they have to football, basketball and hockey. At least some of the boxing matches in Madison Square Garden last night had the same effect on the girls as the boxing matches in the Boston Garden last night.

George Underwood

The frigid mist! Don't they know what a perfectly lovely thing can be had at an exhibition of the gentle art of scrambling ears? Why not cross the frozen half of the steady, handsome, or chipper if, somebody else's best fellow, to take you to tomorrow night's big Christmas Fund boxing show between the Boston Garden and the Maple Leafs? Why, oh why, should you should not give the boys the best of the best? Why, oh why, should you should not give the boys the best of the best? Why, oh why, should you should not give the boys the best of the best?

GIANTS HOT AFTER BATTLE OF BERGER

New York, Dec. 1 (1930)

With the Major-League baseball war still raging full blast on the Montreal front, big league managers are casting covetous eyes on stars of rival clubs with the intent of strengthening their 1931 machines. If the draft squabble continues to prevent the majors from acquiring high class minor league talent the big league owners here next year will be in a worse position than they are now. Open negotiations in many of these private trades are being conducted by minor league managers and managers between owners of Montreal and New York. John McGraw, the most prominent of the metropolitan Giants, took four officers of the Giants to the Canadian coast for this year's winter training. McGraw would like to see the Giants back to Europe for the winter, but he has been told that the New York Yankees would not let him go. Coach Joe McKenney has recommended 38 Eagles for the award of a major letter for the 1930 football season. This is the largest number in history at the Heights. McKenney is of the opinion that it is now, men as possible should be granted letters, not only those who participate in all the big games, but also the members of the scrubs who offer opposition to the varsity all year.

BEER EVENING CHECKS DROP MAINTAIN ST.

Sales total (APR.) 1,000,000 shares
Year ago, 4,337,400

New York, Dec. 4.—A somewhat better stock market, however, lower for the second successive session today. The decline was reversed a little in the last hour for a time it seemed that the hoped-for rally might wake up in a substantial tumble, but after evening checked the decline in the last few minutes.

NARROW RECOVERIES

There were narrow recoveries, mostly fractional, from the day's low. Sales came only about 1,000,000 shares, but that was about 100,000 more than yesterday.

Allied Chemical dropped 3/4 points, then rallied to close off 1/2. American Telephone and Cable showed similar net losses.

The New York Central slipped 1/2 in 1929, a new low since 1926, then recovered a point.

Consolidated Gas, Eastman, North American and Sears Roebuck were 2 or 3 points lower.

American Can, Bethlehem and Westinghouse closed with losses of 1/2, 1/2 and 1/2.

Failure of the market to make any further response to the announcement of higher prices for wheat, wheat and wheat, and the fact that the wheat market was placed upon it by some observers, definitely encouraged some selling.

With several recent reports for November now available, it appears that the crop of wheat for most organizations was relatively good, but the report of the American Wheat Growers' Association, which has been extensive, it was not so great as the average crop in the whole.

Furthermore, there were only 21 days in November, as against 25 in the same month of 1929. The December crop, which would help it by the time the wheat is harvested.

Woodward reported November sales $3.50 per cent. off from last year, against a 10 per cent. advance for the first 11 months of 1929. The December sales were off 10 to 15 per cent. against a 30 to 40 per cent. advance for the first 11 months.

It would appear from these that Montgomery Ward's November report, which was a 10 per cent. decline, reflected an individual decline, rather than general decline in the retail trade.

It is recalled that the retail trade upped several new stores last year, as well as new efforts were made.

BILKINGTON DIVIDEND

It has been reported, Bilkington declared an extra dividend of $3, which will be paid to shareholders on December 15.

The dividend is the first since 1926, and is a reflection of the company's earnings as reported in the annual report.

Taxes and Automobiles

When Will Persistent Gouging End?

The American Petroleum Institute, with headquarters at New York, says an effort is to be made to increase the gasoline tax in every State, among them Massachusetts.

We have discovered too much effort here, but if it does exist it is worthy of being killed aborning.

But there is one evil, important, inescapable fact which even the blind detectives who sought Mr. Garrett could not but help discover.

The fact is this: That in all the history of American taxation, there never has been an industry and there has never been a class of citizens selected for the imposition of arbitrary special taxes, fees, imposts and pestiferous levies like the automotive industry and the citizens who employ the automobile for their business, their comfort or their convenience.

In the State of Massachusetts, the people will pay a gasoline tax the coming year amounting to $11,000,000. They will pay fees, fines and other direct assessments to the State amounting to probably $7,500,000.

This does not include the very heavy property taxes which the people are assessed upon their automobiles, and for which the term excise tax has been coined, probably because it will not sound so harsh as it really is.

Not does it include the more than $20,000,000 a year which the people are compelled to pay, whether they like it or not, for the compulsory liability insurance, without which they are deprived of the use of the highways and streets which they build and pay for.

The amount paid in gasoline taxes and the amount paid in fees and fines, or $18,500,000, is more than the State of Massachusetts is expending annually for the construction, repair and maintenance of the highways of Massachusetts.

The automobilists are not only paying for the roads they use; they are paying for the roads they do not go to.

We are urged, in fact we are begged, to help industry, in order that the wealth of the United States may be increased and in order that steady employment at good wages may be the dower of all. We know that the country gave the railroads enormous grants of land to promote and encourage their expansion. We have seen subsidies granted the merchant marine and laws without number to enrich the banking and financial industries. We have seen invaluable rights in the air conceded to the radio interests.

But we have seen the automobilists, on the other hand, struggling under different forms of taxes which last year took in excess of $800,000,000 out of their pockets in this country.

When some government official evolves a meter for measuring the air they breathe, it will not be unreasonable for us to expect, in the light of all this experience, they will impose a tax upon it.

Massachusetts, instead of thinking in terms of new levies, had better devote its intelligent concern to reducing some of the taxes which are part of this heavy liability borne entirely by the automobilists. The best start can be made by sloughing off some of this indefensible compulsory automobile liability insurance tax.

Yankee Doodle

Born in New York

Who knows "Yankee Doodle"? Everybody. Who knows who wrote it, or where? Nobody. Hence this little bit of historical research may be interesting.

The words were written by Dr. Richard Schuchburgh, surgeon in the British army, in July, 1758, at Fort Carlo, Reneselaer, N. Y. Schuchburgh was with General Abercrombie's regular troops. They were marching against the French and Indian. Part of the contingent included frontiersmen from New York and New England. The contrast between the red-coated, disciplined British and the unkempt Colonials was so great that Dr. Schuchburgh sat down then and there and composed his masterpiece. The music is an old Dutch air.

Written to deride the Americans, there was poetic justice in the fact that the American file and drum corps blared out "Yankee Doodle" when Burgoyne surrendered at Saratoga, and when Cornwallis marched out of captured Yorktown. Ever since it has been an unofficial national air, as dear to the American people as "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Fort Carlo, by the way, is still standing, and there is a movement on foot to restore it to a museum of Colonial life. It should be restored. The birthplace of a song that is older than the United States, and that has been heard above the roar of cannon on a hundred battlefields, is worth preserving.

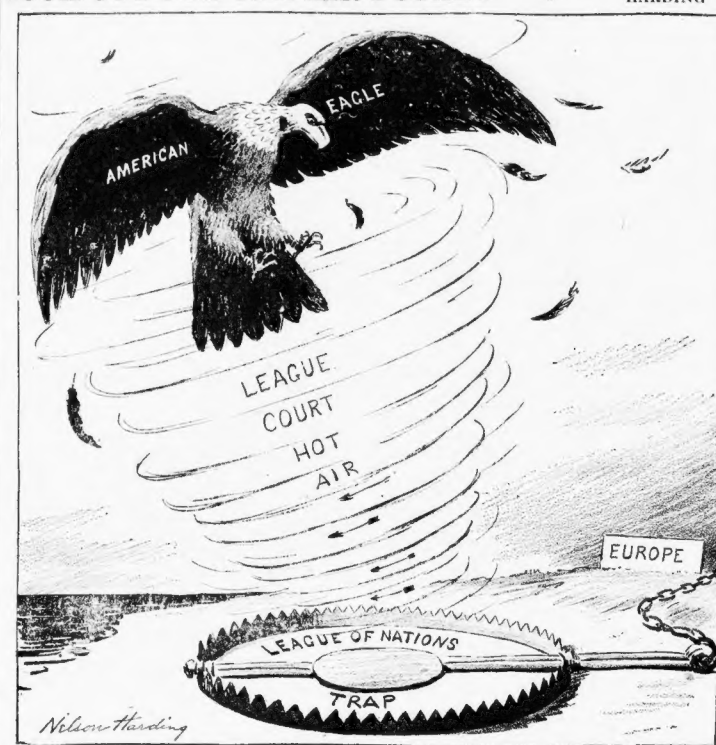

Capital Silhouettes

By GEORGE R. BROWN

WE GATHER that the Congress will look right after the French international loan scheme all.

JUST WHEN we thought that the "dealer" was up-and-running along we had to go and read the word used in the modern sense, in a copy of the Texas Sittings for 1930. We expect to hear any day now that Jesse James always put "em 'on the spot."

LOOK OUT FOR THE AIR POCKET

Bird of Freedom, have a care!
That's a pocket of hot air
That drops you unexpectedly
Where you no longer will be free.

Exert your strength without delay
And from that danger soar away.
Now is the time for you to flap
Your wings and fly far from the trap.

Listen, World! Take Chance

By ELSIE ROBINSON
You Carry a God

EVER GET to feeling like a worm? So low you'd have to spit up to hit your own shadow? Ever feel that the kick has gone out of everything? And you wonder what it's all about—and why you're here, in a way—and what's the use? What's the use of feeling the same thing over and over? Washing dishes. Typing letters. Driving rivets. Doing piece work. Mixing concrete. Selling notions. What do jobs like that buy you? What do they matter whether you do them well or badly?

And, when we do, there's no use telling us to think of other people or take an interest in life. We're sick of life. The thing we need—the only thing that can arouse us—is to take a fresh interest in ourselves. And how are you going to take an interest in a common, ordinary old heel of ham like Bill Jones?

BY REALIZING THAT BILL JONES ISN'T A COMMON ORDINARY OLD HEEL OF HAM! By realizing that he's a mystery as well as a man—that he's BIG TIME STUFF even if his jobs don't sound that way.

Long ago an old Greek philosopher named Epictetus put it this way: "You are a distinct portion of the essence of God and contain a certain part of Him in yourself. Why, then, are you so ignorant of your noble birth? Why do you not consider whence you came?"

"Why do you not remember . . . when you are in the company of women, when you are conversing, when you are disputing, do not you know that it is a god you feed, a god you exercise? You carry a god about with you, wretch, and know nothing of it. Do you suppose I mean some god without you, of gold or silver? It is within yourself you carry him, and prostrate him, without being sensible of it, by impulse, thoughts and unclean actions. If even the image of God were present, you would not dare to act as you do, and when God himself is within you, and hears and sees all, are not you ashamed to think and act thus, insensible of your own nature and hateful to God?"

Epictetus did not say these things in a religious mood. He did not think of God as we do, being a pagan, born before Christ. He was speaking as a wise man of the world. He had been around. He had met men.

He had observed also that, no matter how low a man fell, HE BELIEVED IN HIMSELF. HE BELIEVED IN THAT SECRET, SACRED PRESENCE WITHIN HIMSELF. And he knew that life could be made into a great adventure for any man if he would only remember and respect that secret Presence.

You know that, too. You don't talk about it. Talk, like that, "makes you feel like a fool." Yet always you feel that there's more in you than people realize . . . something if you had a chance—GIVE YOURSELF THAT CHANCE! Believe in that "something" within you! Dare to acknowledge its beauty to yourself. Dare to worship it and bank on it! (Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.)

New York Day by Day

A Flurry in the Book World

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A cheer in the book world, and publishers for the first time in which they snatched their business from almost complete oblivion a few months ago. All of a sudden the entire industry went haywire. Even book-borrowing began to decline.

Book shops, department store book sections and circulating libraries suggested the runaways of Grand Central at 4 a. m. Price slashes had no effect whatever. Authors attended sales in the big stores and offered to autograph their books for free. Book clubs, but few came.

The economic crisis played a large part in the picture, but the book trade was too much to plug up.

Some panic-stricken publishers began to announce $2 and $2.50 books at a dollar and others hit their paper back books at half price. But the more ideas of this sort exploited, the duller the business. It was low peak was reached when an almost complete full stop.

In the chaos publishers did something that should be a future lesson for other enterprises in the grasp of a sinking ship. Whether it was collectively or individually decided, I do not know, but almost simultaneously all began to advertise as never before.

They put on a dignified ballyhoo. Press material usually sent to columnists tripled. More ads in larger display filled newspapers. Book talks and book sales sag. With returning prosperity people begin to read again.

It called in Fred Fitch, my chauffeur and severe critic, to permit him to see my house suit from Paris, which he had just brought from the custom office. It is a trifle piddly, but I see no reason for his inquiry: "That's to wear in a show, isn't it?"

is composed of two young men—the New York glorified office boy types—who began five years ago in a single room. On their door was painted: "Simon and Schuster—Publishers." Underneath some was had painted: "O! what?"

Another young publishing firm is Farrar and Funt, Stanley Rosenberg is the son of Mary Roberts Rinehart, whose books are among those the firm publishes. Farrar is editor of the Bookman, is a discriminating judge of literature and has a notion—expressed to mutual friends—that this chronicler bears a grievance against him.

Once I referred to Farrar as a "pale young poet." He is not applicable, is young and a poet. I imagine, in light of what is turned out about me at times, my comment had a dallop of praise.

Just yesterday a clipping from Texas said: "McIntyre has a neck like an ostrich that just gulped a croquet ball. He walks like a thoroughbred ice wagon, has lantern jaws and the last time he was in Texas went wild cat hunting in Texas."

I like Texas. I like Texas. They shoot the piece or give up dice.

But regarding books, a seller tells me his biggest customer is a retired merchant who buys an average of 14 books a week. He is a trifle piddly, but I see no reason for his inquiry: "That's to wear in a show, isn't it?"

In the underworld "the high hot" and if the printer makes it hot I'll put again.

The Brown Man's Racket

And the White Man's Burden

A "WISE MAN" FROM THE EAST—WISER THAN SOME WESTERNERS

Rabindranath Tagore, Hindu poet and philosopher, was guest of honor at a dinner in New York the other night. The function was attended by 350 supposedly sane Americans, who paid $25 apiece to look at and listen to him.

The eminent Oriental was good enough to say in his speech that some things in America met with his approval. Then, as is the habit of gentlemen of his type, he went on to remark that:

"You of the Western world have exploited those who are helpless and those who are weak. . . . We were more in that vein, and the sage concluded with the observation that:

"The greater part of this world suffers from your Western civilization." His hearers, 350 of them, applauded the sentiment.

This sort of thing is an old story, and nobody can blame Tagore or other celebrities from across the Pacific because they indulge in it. They have found that they can put it over with impunity—in fact, that a certain number of soft-headed Americans consider it "so spiritual" that they cheerfully pay real money for the privilege of being insulted by these visiting medicine men.

In behalf of the rest of the community, however, it seems time that somebody called the bluff.

The yongs, babus and pundits from "highly civilized" India; the slick independence propagandists from the Philippines; the oily-tongued fakirs from half a dozen other tropical climes are beginning to be a national pest.

They represent rather less than half of 1 per cent of the millions of Asiatics that they presume to speak for. They swarm up and down the United States like a plague of locusts.

They retail a lot of eloquent claptrap about conditions in their own countries, not one-tenth of which is true.

They work on the sympathies of old ladies of both sexes. Then they go back home with their pockets full of American cash, and their heads full of well-founded contempt for the gullibility of the American people.

Tagore, for example, has the colossal nerve to tell us what a terrible thing Western civilization is for the oppressed races of the East.

His own India is kept from going to complete smash only by the power and the justice of Britain, as he knows.

His own people are fed in times of famine by the hated British.

His millions of Bengali brethren are saved from destruction at the hands of fighting Mohammedans solely by these same British.

His entire land is preserved from tyranny or anarchy only because Britain has the strength of character and the strength of empire to preserve it.

Then he comes here and wrings his hands—at $25 a wring—about oppression.

Or take our own Philippines. Every year we get a delegation of plausible native politicians to tell us how we exploit their unfortunate people. They demand that we get out and give them "liberty" at once, if not sooner.

The twelve million Filipino peasants, who compose 95 per cent of the population, have more real liberty now than they ever had. And what these politicians would do to them if we did get out. But they have nobody to speak for them in this country. Their side is never heard.

Not one of the glib propagandists that demand "independence" would have a pair of shoes on his feet today if America had not gone to his rescue in 1902, and spent millions of good American dollars and thousands of good American lives at the cost of giving him a civilized government. In fact, if it had not been for America, he would not have been born, and many ever since, he would now be digging some local master in his native jungle, or would be pulling a rickshaw for some master from Japan.

Protection and help for the masses of the natives of India and the Philippines are the offenses which these self-appointed spokesmen for the "poor, down-trodden" Asiatics get so eloquent about.

Law, order, sanitation, schools and colleges, highways, railroads and better wages are the oppression which British and Americans have imposed upon India and the Philippines.

Dirt, disease, hunger, superstition and appalling ignorance constitute the Oriental "higher civilization" which Tagore and his ilk extol.

Sane Americans and British are slightly fed up with the Oriental gentlemen who come here to throw mud at Western civilization and Western ideas. And they will be increasingly disgusted with the homegrown sentimentalists who, possessing more money than brains, support this devious racket.

It is a poor bird that fouls his own nest, and it is a poorer one that chirps approvingly while others foul it for him.
